PERSONAL BIO

John E. Tyrrell is one of the founding Members of Ricci Tyrrell Johnson & Grey and is its Managing Member. Ricci Tyrrell is a litigation firm representing the interests of its clients in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, and across the United States.

For over 25 years, a focus of Mr. Tyrrell's practice has been representation of owners and operators of stadiums, arenas, and recreational facilities, including professional and collegiate sports teams, stadium managers, concert promoters, golf courses, ice rinks, paint ball facilities, rowing clubs, gymnastics facilities and music venues. Mr. Tyrrell is trial counsel to such entities and also provides risk management and liability prevention consultation. He drafts contracts with vendors and service partners, and authors information guides, ticket and pass disclaimers, prospective releases, patron signage and other communication devices. Mr. Tyrrell also participates in training facility personnel. He has developed a particular expertise in prosecuting and defending contractual indemnity and insurance claims, both at trial and through declaratory judgment proceedings.

In addition to his practice in the area of Sports and Events, John Tyrrell also concentrates on the defense of global product manufacturers in both personal injury and commercial claims. He has litigated numerous catastrophic injury cases and tried dozens of cases in U.S. state and federal courts. He has secured defense verdicts at trials involving alleged damages in the tens of millions of dollars.

John Tyrrell graduated cum laude from Columbia University and received his Juris Doctor from Villanova University. He is a frequent presenter at conferences and events sponsored by various organizations including the Association of Equipment Manufacturers, the Defense Research Institute, and the Pennsylvania Bar Institute. He has received an AV Rating from Martindale-Hubbell.
